

EduCo announces rebranding – changes name to Nordiqus

Today, SBB EduCo AB (“EduCo”) has unveiled its new name and brand identity – Nordiqus AB (“Nordiqus”). The name change does not affect the ongoing activities, and previous processes will remain intact.

The name change and rebranding aim to decouple and further clarify Nordiqus as a separate company. Relevant information about the company can now be found on the new website, www.nordiqus.com.

Nordiqus will continue to contribute to building societies and be a driving force within social infrastructure – developing attractive properties and environments for education. A mission that both owners stand behind and will support. SBB will continue to manage the properties according to an asset management agreement. The same individuals and teams will be handling the ongoing contact, and the previous processes will remain intact.

“The name change signals a new chapter in Nordiqus’ journey. Over the past few years, Nordiqus has built the leading portfolio of educational properties in the Nordics, being one of the largest owners and operators in the region. Strong local presence, know-how and relationships have been at the core of this development – and will remain so. We look forward to continuing to offer high-quality educational properties according to the needs and ambitions of our tenants, partners and municipalities”, says Jenny Rehn, CEO, of Nordiqus.

For more information, please contact:

Jenny Rehn, CEO
jenny.rehn@nordiqus.com

About Nordiqus

Nordiqus is one of the largest owners and operators of educational properties in the Nordics. The portfolio totals more than 600 properties, including preschools, primary schools, secondary schools and universities. The company's mission is to be a driving force within social infrastructure – by owning, managing, and developing educational properties of the highest quality, for current and future generations. More information about Nordiqus is available at www.nordiqus.com.