

Code of Conduct for Suppliers

Adopted by: Board of Directors

Adopted: 23-12-07

Last updated: [Date]

Updated by: [Role]

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR SUPPLIERS

This policy is applicable to all suppliers of Nordiqus AB and Nordiqus AB:s group companies, hereinafter referred to as the "Company". When this policy refers to the Company, if nothing else, Nordiqus AB and its group companies are mentioned.

1. Introduction

The purpose of this Code of Conduct for Suppliers is to define a business ethics compass for The Company as a business partner, employer, employee, and community actor with the aim of maintaining a high level of trust in The Company among customers, business partners, employees, shareholders and the market.

All employees, including all managers, are responsible for keeping themselves informed on both the Code of Conduct and other applicable policies within the company, as well as regarding applicable legislation. The Company is reliant on the trust of its tenants, its tenants' customers, its employees, its share- holders, and its partners. It is only by maintaining a high level of trust that The Company can continue to be a successful and long-term player in social infrastructure. The Company's Code of Conduct defines a business ethics compass for The Company – the Code sets out clear standards as to how we are expected to behave as business partners, employers, employees, and societal stakeholders.

2. To whom does the Sustainability Code apply?

The Code of Conduct applies to all the Company's suppliers and business partners, including contractors, consultants and other business partners working within The Company's operations. The Company's Code of Conduct also applies to joint ventures and other operations in which The Company has a holding.

The Company expects its suppliers to be familiar with the contents of the Code of Conduct and to consider how it can apply to their tasks. It is the responsibility of all to lead by example.

3. Working environment and professional behaviour

The Company's suppliers are expected to perform their duties in a professional, responsible, respectful, conscientious, and ethical manner, and to act in the best interests of the company. This applies to contacts with The Company's customers, employees, partners, and other stakeholders. The Company's equipment and property are to be treated with due care and judgement and are to be used only for their intended purposes.

Nordiqus

The Company complies with applicable laws, agreements, and regulations regarding working hours.

No one may be under the influence of alcohol or drugs in connection with work being carried out under the auspices of The Company. The Company does not accept any form of disrespectful behaviour, bullying, discrimination, isolation, harassment, or molestation in the form of, for example, sexual advances. Harassment is intended to denote undesirable behaviour that violates the dignity or integrity of an individual.

The Company does not tolerate any form of forced labour.

The Company supports the abolition of exploitative child labour. In the event of any recruitment of employees below the age of 18 (which may occur under exceptional circumstances, mainly during vacation periods or in the form of internships and the like), the company complies with applicable working environment regulations with regard to the employee's age, including the observance of working hours and level of responsibility, etc.

4. Laws, rules and regulations

The Company adheres to the legislation, rules, and regulations relevant to its operations. The Company requires its business partners to act in a similar manner.

The Company also supports international standards in human rights, working conditions, the environment and anti-corruption. The Company has been a member of the UN Global Compact since 2016. Accordingly, the Company supports the Global Compact and undertakes to apply its ten principles of human rights, labour law, the environment and anti-corruption based, which are based on the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the ILO Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work, the Rio Declaration on Environment and Development and the UN Convention against Corruption.

5. Environmental impact

The Company has undertaken to mitigate any negative effects on the environment that the company's operations may cause. The Company always strives to use energy-efficient equipment and processes in the company's operations. The company's suppliers must report any discrepancies detected that impact the environment at the properties managed by The Company.

Nordiqus

The Company always encourages the company's partners and subcontractors to comply with environmentally friendly procedures.

6. Business ethics, anti-corruption measures, anti-competitive behaviour, and money laundering

The Company follows current regulations on combating money laundering and expects the same from its suppliers and business partners.

The Company applies zero tolerance of bribery and behaviours aimed at generating business advantages through the provision of gifts, entertainment, or benefits. Any attempt to bribe anyone should be reported to the nearest manager or to company management.

Gifts, entertainment, remuneration and personal benefits may only be offered or received if they are of low value and in accordance with normal business practices. No gifts, entertainment or personal services may be offered that violate any applicable law or Code of Conduct. Nor may The Company employees or suppliers receive any gift, entertainment or personal service that may be believed to have an impact on business transactions.

The Company's employees and suppliers shall not participate in any collaboration or behave in any other manner that could be perceived as restricting competition.

The Company's employees and suppliers are aware that the information, working documents and systems provided by the Company, or which are developed based on information provided by the Company, and which are not public, must be treated as confidential. The Company's employees and suppliers show caution in handling the company's documents and information.

7. Alcohol and drugs

All employees and suppliers must be sober and drug-free during working hours.

8. Reporting suspected abuse

If a violation of the Code is detected, the violation will result in an investigation that may lead to disciplinary action such as a warning, termination, dismissal or even prosecution. Employees or suppliers who detect violations of the Code of Conduct should report the violation to their nearest manager or to a senior manager as soon as possible. Violations can also be reported anonymously to the person designated by the Company in the company's whistleblower policy.

9. Compliance

The principles of the Code of Conduct are reviewed on an ongoing basis as a natural part of the company's operations.

If an employee of the Company or supplier fails to act in accordance with the Code of Conduct, appropriate measures will be taken. If a business partner repeatedly or seriously violates the Code of Conduct, the company's collaboration with that business partner will be terminated.